

THURSDAY MARKET

in the SOUTH PERRY DISTRICT

Community

Farmers Markets Support Healthy Communities. We host our market in the park, providing ample space for neighbors to sit and connect. We strive for all the “feel goods”: good music, good food, good yard games and good company.

Agriculture

Farmers are our heart. We hosted 28 farmers in 2022. We strive to create a reliable and sustainable way for farmers to connect directly with their consumer. We are historically farm land, in Eastern Washington, and it is meaningful to stay connected to our roots. Also to ensure our community is fed.

Food Access

We are committed to building socioeconomic bridges and ensuring that all members of our community have reliable and accessible means to fresh healthy food. The SNAP Market Match program is a cornerstone to our market.

At a Glance

- 26 Market Days, rain or smoke or shine or extreme heat
- 2500 shoppers per week on average
- 79 hyper local owner operated small businesses supported
- $669,155 total vendor sales
- $51,187 in SNAP/ EBT vendor sales
- $300,909 directly to farmers
- 300 Early Reader kids books distributed
- 25 Local musicians showcased and supported
- 2500 KERNEL participants
- 1,600 lbs of produce gleaned and distributed

Community Sponsors

It takes a village to make a market

Thursday Market budget

50% : Vendor Fees

30% : Grants & Sponsorships

20% : Fundraising

Thanks to our 2022 Sponsors:

- Global Credit Union
- Chas Health
- Multicare
- United Way
- UPS

Mission Statement:

The South Perry Farmers Market engages the community by providing a weekly forum of exchange. Producers and consumers exchange resources, ideas, and experiences. The market makes a valuable contribution to the unique character of the neighborhood while providing leadership to the broader community. Our mission is to provide a community focused marketplace in the heart of the South Perry neighborhood that promotes and practices social, economic, and environmental sustainability.

Looking Ahead

2023 is shaping up to be a bigger market than we've seen. We anticipate more and new farmers and are focusing on the leadership element of our mission. By forging new partnerships in the community to increase access to fresh and healthy food.